

7.3 Institutional Distinctiveness

Guided by the motto of "Courage to know", the institution envisions a 'beyond the text-book' approach for holistic development of students. Volunteers of departmental/intra-disciplinary societies and NSS engage in community-centric activities on pertinent issues like environment; road safety; gender empowerment; HIV/AIDS awareness cleanliness; community health; drug de-addiction; etc. The stress is laid through mechanisms/awareness campaigns/drives like 'Cracker-free Diwali', 'Safe Driving', 'Tree plantation', 'Women empowerment', 'Personal hygiene'. The students engage in poster-making, slogan-writing, rangoli-making, declamation, power-point presentation, quiz etc.; and perform skits and street plays on 'ecological preservation', 'drug de-addiction', 'free and fair voting', 'value of girl child', 'protection against HIV/AIDS' etc. Extending beyond the periphery of our adopted village, 'Khudda Jassu', volunteers visit public/market places to highlight the issues, and guide the citizens about safety measures, precautions and preventive steps on areas of concern.

A sense of solidarity, workmanship and spirit of nation-building is quite visible in the students, and by working for a 'common-cause', they develop a sense of pride. We do not churn out mechanical human beings, but shape their over-all personality so that they realise their true and full potential, make use of it in a constructive manner, and become productive assets for the society.
